

The Roofing Store

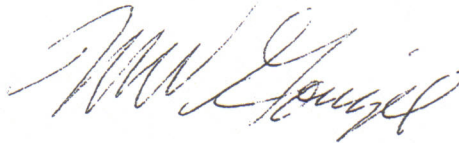

September 28, 2007

I want to commend all those who completed the re-roofing of my house this past week. The job was completed in one day with a level of professionalism that a homeowner like myself sincerely appreciates.

Special thanks to Al Harvey who during the proposal phase discussed with me the re-roofing process and the specific materials to be used. It is noteworthy that he followed up this discussion with a professionally written proposal that put in writing all of those details.

And to the roofing crew headed by Lee, another sincere Thanks for their genuine concern to do an excellent job and thorough cleanup for the customer. Their efforts on a day of unusual heat and humidity were outstanding and enhanced their company's overall reputation in my opinion.
